

MYC Auction 17th May 24

The Flag Officers and the Management Committee are working hard to make Medway Yacht Club a club that appeals to both current and new members. As such, members will be pleased to see that work to redecorate the club house has recently commenced, this follows updating the furniture and photographs in the Dragon bar.

Over the years MYC has acquired several pictures and photographs, many donated by members looking for a home for items they no longer want. Many of these items have been displayed for a few years around the club without much consideration to the way in which they are displayed. Hence, it was suggested an auction be run in which selected items be offered for sale to members.

The attached catalogue shows the items for auction on Friday 17th May.

The Flag Officers and Management Committee reserve the right to withdraw an item from sale at any time. Any member who considers it appropriate that an item be withdrawn are asked to contact Ian Farlane, General Manager, in the first instance. Note: All items have been digitally archived, so a record of all will remain in the club archives.

Thank you - Poem

Stew, Wendy & Tom Williams
Dabchicks Sailing Club

*When we arrived at Medway, we were welcomed by friendly people
To register our lad Tom, who, to be said, was feeling quite gleeful
To enter cadet week, an event that promised so much
With loads to do, people to meet, and lots of sailing, as such
Ice skating, camping, bowling and a quiz that required some thinking
Just don't tell the Commodore that they had all been drinking!!*

*Tired eyes on the Monday, emotions may run high
By lunchtime all they could hope for was to stay dry.
Tuesday, not much wind, it would be a struggle
To sail around Hoo island, spinners in a muddle
A marathon on Wednesday, perhaps a chocolate bar or 2
To stave away the hangovers, that affected maybe a few.*

*Thursday back to racing, a new series all to play for
Just don't get washed up and stuck on the muddy, lee shore
Friday, a race or maybe 2, all really tired, but to find a winner
That will see out the week as champ, a trophy, and a presentation dinner*

*A great time we have had, been welcomed by one and all
Me on a boat, Woo in the galley, we've really had a ball
We hope our connection with Medway, now will never end
Because those friendly people we started with, are now people we call friends.*

*Thank you
